San Diego, CA - Leadership California has selected Danell Scarborough as a member of the Class of 2000 for its 2000 Annual Issues Program (AIP). This is a prestigious, yearlong program for 50 women leaders from across the state of California. Ms. Scarborough has been part of the leadership team of the City Attorney's Office since Casey Gwinn took office in 1996.

Leadership California's Annual Issues Program provides focused development of women leaders, exposing them to critical public and private sector issues and enhancing their competitive knowledge. It connects women leaders from across the state with each other and with top decision-makers, thinkers and practitioners. It promotes creativity and innovation through the sharing of ideas and best practices. Graduates of the AIP are empowered to contribute more fully to California's vision of excellence and to the communities and companies in which they live and work.

Leadership California began in 1992 with a dream to inspire, inform and advance women leaders who would influence California's future. It provides a critical pathway for successful women who care about advancement, achievement and significance. These women are not only talking about change, but plan to be part of making it happen.
